"Now, it's time to turn the page."

- Barack Obama

To the Class of 2015,

This five year endeavor down the corridors of Barnstable High School is a reflection of trial and error of past classes ; a journey we have relished in together and a legacy we will leave for generations to come. Many things have fluctuated through the years; from chalk boards to smart boards, fresh paint and construction zones--we progress. Students have and always will serve as the true architects to the heart of the school. Inside the sturdy red bricks lies the impenetrable Red Raider pride that grows and matures with each graduating class. This pride has been reflected in our daily lives and builds upon the foundation of a safe, accepting, and diverse community. The Great Gatsby, a drama club production sparked our enthusiasm early on, momentum from deep within our backstage crew held together the seams of a marvelous performance. Sports teams powered through with vigor and strength as eager fans were there to cheer them on. Fabrications built upon the vast imagination we possess can be found in any given hallway, murals that dance along our side and lift our spirits. It can be found at the annual Fashion Show, where exuberant colors and passions are brought to life and animated with each stride down the runway. Music from our school's exceptional music program warms the ears of those at football games, concerts and other school events. Our talent doesn't stop here. Look to the remarkable creativity in our own B2B studio where potential SNL stars and morning news anchors bring to life the endless activities, events and deadlines.

Past, present, or future, the generations of Barnstable High School are brought together by our origins in this place we call home. In this 81st volume of the Barnacle, we hope to reflect as a class, not as individuals. We wish to fill each and every soul with a sense of nostalgia as we look back to the past and prepare for our futures. We wish you all the best of luck.

Down Memory Lane

Q: What is your favorite memory from your time at BHS?

Haley Kinerson

A: My favorite memory from BHS would probably be Swindler's class, going to the freshman classes, and talking to them. I wish I had that when I was a freshman.

Peter Theoharidis

A: Shakespeare with Mr. O'Toole and playing puck with the boys.

Lauren Lee

A: Dressing up for Homecoming when I was in 10th grade because we looked so pretty that year and it hasn't happened since.

> "My favorite BHS memory was cutting off Nick Passalugo's hair on the 8th grade trip to Canada. They took my scissors, not my freedom."

Visions for the Future

Q and A

After taking a trip down memory lane, the Yearbook Staff got the inside scoop on the class of 2015's hopes and dreams for their future endeavors.

Q: Where do you see yourself in the future?

AJ Kantzelis

A: First off, I want to be a police officer for the Barnstable PD and I hope to be living somewhere in Centerville, Hyannis, or maybe Osterville if I can afford it. I also want to have a wife and kids and hopefully go to Plymouth State or American University.

Michael Pena

A: I'm going to go to college and have a lot of fun. I want to do something with special needs kids as a job, maybe a special needs teacher, and I want to travel.

Shanique Mason

A: Rich.

Derek Silliman

A: Let's see, I'll probably live somewhere in the North-East or the North-West and I'll probably be in the military and I don't know maybe Congress, government and stuff.

Lindsey Phelan

A: I want to get married and have kids; I want to work with the elderly because I love old people, maybe someplace like Spalding or in an assisted living, doing occupational therapy with like motor skills of old people.

Benjamin Griffin

A: I see myself being a doctor with a wife and kids. I want to be a neurosurgeon and go to college in the Boston area.

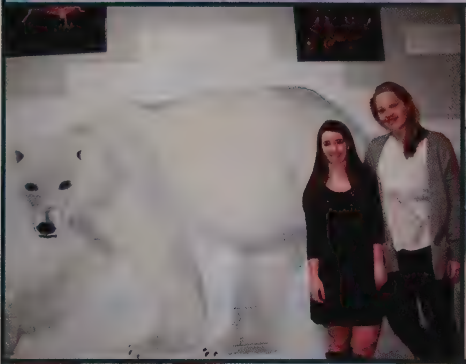
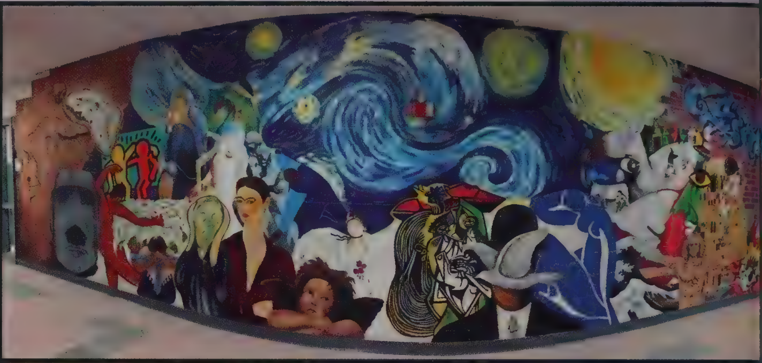
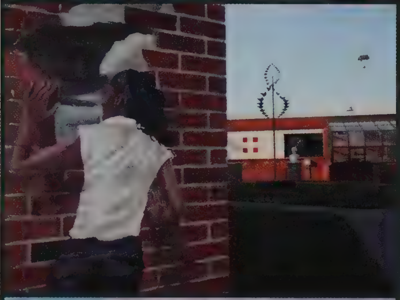
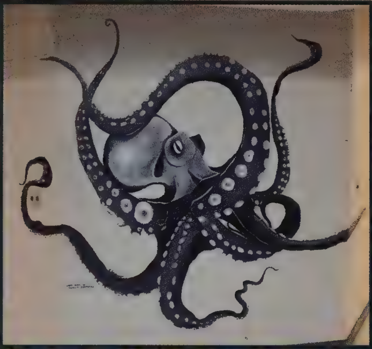
Beautification of BHS









It's a ramification,
a proclamation of dedication!
For not just education-
but the color of a wall, an artisti representation.
When corridors become destinations
and we immerse ourselves
in our own imagination,
we leave behind a gift
of our own fabrication.

Much of the beauty in our school can be attributed to the hands of our very own Mr. Gyra. After each school day he gets into his afternoon grind as projects extend beyond the classroom. An entire community has been inspired to take part in the creation of our Astro Park, a showcase of art and culture. Thank you for all of those who have shared with us our journey of beautification and a special thank you to Mr. Gyra!

Whenever one door closes I hope one more opens,
Promise me that you'll give faith a

And when you get the choice to sit it out

I hope you dance..."

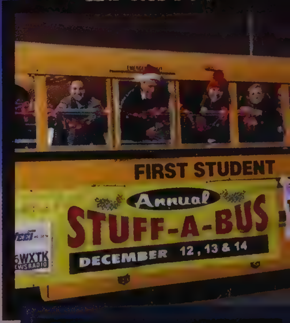
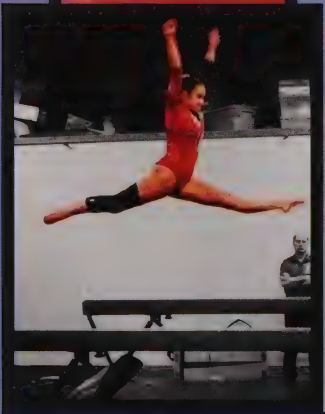
This is Who We Are...

After the ruthless winter of 2015 with record snowfall, it is time to rub the snowflakes from our eyelids and reflect on the hearts of Barnstable High School that create the everlasting beat of this school.

From Owen Murray, who won the New England Wrestling Championship in his weight class, to the gymnastics team that tumbled their way to the top as New England Champions, Barnstable is bursting with talent. At this year's talent show, Ceili Magnus warmed our ears with a beautiful opera piece, taking home first prize. Lili Everson won the Poetry Out Loud school competition, a tradition that continues to honor those truly gifted with words and speech. Both boys and girls hockey had an equally exciting run in the MIAA State Tournament. Fancy footwork from the boys soccer team proved successful after winning the OCL Championship. Barnstable continues to help those less fortunate with programs such as Stuff-A-Bus and the annual Blood and Coat Drive.

Most importantly, Kevin Houston, a BHS graduate and revered Navy Seal, was memorialized forever after his number #46 was retired.





Justin Matthew Aristide
1996-2014

We believe that all things are possible,
That Life is precious,
That peace is reasonable,
That laughter is special,
That blessings are divine,
That love is grand,
And…..
That Justin was the Best,
The absolute Best!

We miss you Justin.
Love,
Mom & Dad

May your life's journey
continue to take you to places
that bring you happiness.

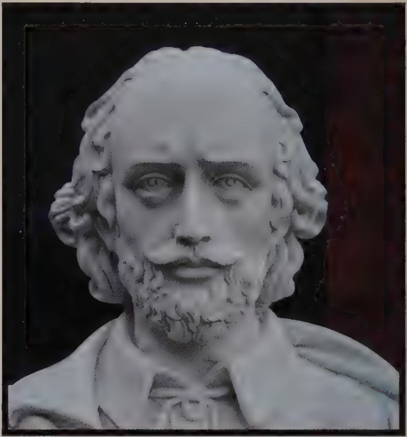
"O THIS LEARNING, WHAT A THING IT IS!"

- THE TAMING OF THE SHREW

After 37 years of inspiring students in the classroom, directing over 40 plays, including 23 Shakespeare productions, providing more belly-laughs than one can possibly count, and creating a legacy that has inspired thousands of students to go above and beyond, the time has come to say goodbye to Mr. Ed O'Toole- BHS's very own Jersey Boy. His laser sharp and quick wit, hilarious sense of humor, profound respect for the written word, tireless work-ethic, and relentless drive to always improve himself as an educator and coach leaves us with crystalizing memories that remain forever in our hearts.



It has been an honor for me to share in his journey for the past three decades; I cherish the times I worked with him. Mr. O'Toole's dedicated heartbeats have always been about encouraging others to think independently, to learn for the love of it, to ponder the bigger picture about what matters most in life, and, ultimately, to take risks in order to grow beyond one's comfort zone. These unconditional gifts are priceless and life- changing and his presence leaves BHS a better place.

Well done, Mr. O'Toole.
